WORKSHEET- 1

ANNUAL EXAMINATION/EVALUATION 2: 2022-23

GRADE: 5

SUBJECT: ENGLISH

Reading Section

I. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow.

1. Now my brother became much gentler towards me. Several times when he found reason to scold me, he did it without losing his temper. My independence grew. I started imagining that I would pass next time whether I studied or not. I found a new pleasure in flying kites and now spent more time on the field. Still, I was conscious of my manners with my brother and concealed my kite-flying from him. In preparation for the kite tournament I was secretly busy solving such problems as how best to get the string and how to apply the paste mixed with ground glass to it to cut the other kites off their strings.

2. One day, far from the hostel, I was running down the road trying to grab hold of a kite. My eyes were on the heavens and that high-flying traveler in the skies. A whole army of boys were racing to welcome it with long, thick bamboo rods. Nobody was aware who was in front or behind him.

3. Suddenly I collided with my brother, who was probably coming back from the market. He grabbed my hand and said angrily, "Aren't you ashamed of running after a one paisa kite? Have you forgotten that you are in grade 8 now, one behind me. A man's got to have some regard for his position. There was a time when by passing the eighth grade people became assistant revenue collectors, first degree deputy magistrates or superintendents."

A. Answer the following questions very briefly:

1. How was the narrator treated by the elder brother ?
2. What problems were being solved by the narrator?

Reading Section

1. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow:

WHITE HOUSE

For two hundred years, the White House has stood as a symbol of the Presidency, the United States government, and the American people. Its history of the nation's capital began when President George Washington signed an act of Congress in December of 1790 declaring that the federal government would reside in a district "not exceeding ten miles square...on the river Potomac". President Washington together with the city planner Pierre L'Enfant, chose the site for the new residence, which is now Pennsylvania Avenue. As preparation began for the new federal city, a competition was held to find the builder for the 'President house'. Nine proposals were submitted, and an Irish-born architect James Hoban won a gold medal for his practical and handsome design.

The first cornerstone was laid in October 1792. Although President Washington oversaw the construction of the house, he never lived in. It was not until 1800, when the House was nearly completed, that its first residents, President Adam and his wife, Abigail moved in.

I am a yellow truck. My owner is six year old boy called Jaggu. His mother takes good care of me. She wipes me with a sweet smelling liquid, whenever, I become dirty. I am big and sturdy and children fight over me. Everyone wants to make me move back and forth to see me roar and speed down the path. They love to run behind me and roar along. During the day time I get a lot of time to rest under a baby bed. By afternoon, Jaggu returns from school and crawls under the bed just to give me a smile. I know I make all the children happy.

One day, a new boy became Jaggu's friend. He was very naughty. He would sit on me to enjoy a joy ride. He was so heavy! When he sat on me for the third time a spring snapped and my wheel came off. I tilted on one side and Jaggu sobbed. He carried me back home. His mother tried to mend my wheel but the spring was nowhere to be found. I was tossed aside in a drum that contained many damaged toys like me. It was bad, as everybody complained. The drum was so suffocating. The toys shifted struggled to feel comfortable but there was no place. It was like a huge traffic jam. The stuffed toys had holes in them. The scooters, cars and I, had missing limbs. It was sad and I felt sorry for everybody. I wish somebody could put our parts to use or mend us.

It seemed as if Jaggu's mother heard me. One day she pulled us out and cleaned each one of us. Then she took us to the orphanage where some children were happy to see us. They hugged us as if we were the best in the world. It was good to bring a smile on everybody's face!
